

ANACOSTIA FLATS NEARLY FILLED IN

Dramatic Entertainment for Dec. 13—New Hall Nearing Completion.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU,
ANACOSTIA, D. C., DEC. 9.

The work of filling in the Anacostia flats in accordance with the appropriation made by Congress is rapidly being completed, that is, as far as the money granted will go. A large suction dredge, the Dewey, which has been in the Anacostia river for the past three months, has finished its work and left the river. Another dredge of the scoop type has taken its place. The material brought up from the bottom of the river by this dredge is hauled away in barges, where the suction dredge pumped its refuse through a line of pipes set upon a trestlework of piles. This dredge worked from the foot of Second street to the foot of Tenth street southeast, necessitating the use of about three-quarters of a mile of pipe. This is now being removed.

All of the flats on the Anacostia side of the river out to the channel bank, and from a point opposite the Washington Barracks to a point opposite the sewerage pumping station at the foot of Second street southeast, has now been filled in. The ground opposite the arsenal is being used by the United States Quartermaster Department for a truck garden.

The construction of a two-story six-room brick house with all modern improvements to cost $2,500 will be begun in a few days by Hardesty and Reddon, local builders. The house when completed will number 229 Shannon place and will be owned by Thomas E. Reddon.

The Feast of the Immaculate Conception is being celebrated today in St. Teresa's Catholic Church, corner of V and Thirteenth streets. The services this morning consisted of two masses, which were said at 8 and 10 o'clock. The evening service, at 7:30 o'clock, will be recitation of the rosary and benediction of the blessed sacrament.

Several residents of this section have been injured more or less seriously by falling on the sidewalk. Mrs. Florence Adams, of Congress Heights, fell while she was leaving a street car at the transfer station on Nichols avenue, badly spraining her ankle. She is confined to her home, having declined to go to a hospital. William Scantlebury, Sr., living at 1100 E Street, employed in the U. S. Bureau of Engraving and Printing, fell as he was on his way to work, severely injuring his back. Simon Harrison, an employee of the Washington Navy Yard, residing at 2128 Nichols avenue, is under treatment in the Emergency Hospital, the result of a fall on Pennsylvania avenue near Thirteenth street northwest.

Consideration of the question of the assignment by Bishop Harding of a rector for permanent service in the Protestant Episcopal parish of Congress Heights, will be had on Monday evening next, when the vestrymen of the parish hold their regular meeting in the Esther Memorial Protestant Episcopal Church. The Rev. Charles Scatag, formerly the rector of Grace Episcopal Church, in Washington, continues in service pending the announcement of a decision by Bishop Harding as to the identity of the rector who will be named.

The Sunday school department of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Congress Heights held a successful social in the town hall, on Alabama avenue, recently, at which an interesting program was rendered. The funds raised will be used for the Christmas exercises for the Sunday school.

A dramatic entertainment typical of the holiday season is to be produced by an amateur company, recruited from among those employed at the Government Hospital for the Insane, in Hitchcock Hall, on the evening of December 13. The title of the play is "The Three Hacks," and Dr. Alfred Glascock, of the hospital medical staff, who is conducting rehearsals for the event, expects to present a finished production.

Rapid progress is being made toward the completion of the new hall adjoining the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church, on Fourteenth street, which is being built by the congregation of that church as a place of assembly and recreation for the juveniles of Anacostia and vicinity. The work is going forward under the personal supervision of the Rev. Samuel W. Grafflin.

Visiting day was observed yesterday at the Van Buren public school, on W street, many parents of the pupils responding to the invitations sent out by the various teachers to visit the respective grades, examine into the pupils' work, etc. These visiting days are observed each Thursday following the first Monday in the month.

Last Rites Are Held For Commander Platt

Funeral services for Commander Robert Platt, U. S. N., retired, who died at his residence, 411 B street northeast, were held at St. Mark's Church, Third and A streets southeast, this morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was in Congressional Cemetery.

Must Have "Vacuum" In Vacuum Cleaners

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.—A vacuum cleaner without the vacuum must not be sold through the United States mails, it is contended by Federal officers who yesterday arrested William Harrison and Bruce Shorpening, of Cincinnati, on charges of using the mails to defraud. It is alleged that $200,000 has been taken in return for the "vacuum cleaners" since January 1.

Two Silver Dollars Worth $500 Each

CARLISLE, Pa., Dec. 9.—In the collection of the late John C. Comfort, two silver dollars of the coinage of 1894 were found. The dollars are said to be worth $500 each, as only two are known that year. The other two are in a well-known collection.

HIGH SEAS GIVE BIRTH TO HER ART

Learns Elocution on Long
Voyage With Her Father.

Of Olive Temple, leading woman with J. E. Dodson in "The House Next Door," next week's attraction at the National Theater, it may be said that the sea fathered her ambition to become an actress.

Miss Temple's father was a sea captain, with a home in London. His voyages were often long, for he was captain of a clipper ship. On one of these long voyages Miss Temple accompanied him. Captain Temple was an elocutionist, and when at home, after a long trip, he would entertain his family by reciting Shakespeare, of which he was particularly fond.

On this particular voyage Miss Temple found time hanging heavily on her young head, for she soon tired of reading and the long stretch of sea. She decided to adopt her father's hobby as a means of recreation.

He approved the idea and gave her daily lessons in voice culture, following this with correct study in reciting well-known poems and scenes from Shakespeare. By the end of the voyage of three months Miss Temple was an elocutionist of ability.

Her first theatrical appearance was made in "The Solicitor." Later she was a member of Sir Charles Wyndham's company. She played, also, in the companies of Cyril Maude and Edwin Terry.

FEDERAL ESTIMATES INCREASED FOR 1912

Talk of Economy in This Line Off the Base By $21,000,000.

According to a statement prepared by the clerks of the Senate and House Appropriations Committee, the talk about economy on the part of the Administration with respect to the estimates for the next fiscal year, does not get very far.

It is found by the Appropriations Committee clerks that the increase of the estimates for 1912 over the estimates for 1911 exceeds $21,000,000.

The total net increase for the fiscal year, which will end in June, 1912, over the appropriations for 1911, exclusive of deficiencies and miscellaneous, is $7,251,520.

The total estimates of regular and permanent annual appropriations for 1912 is $995,148,805. This is over $68,000,000 more than the estimates of the revenue.

HE'S GLAD POLICE ARE EFFICIENT

Sylvester Silent, Though, As to Taft's Remark on
"Military Bearing."

Did you read what President Taft said about the Washington police force in his message to Congress? No?

Well, here it is in the President's own words: "The police force, while perhaps it might be given, or acquire, more military discipline in bearing and appearance, is nevertheless an efficient body of men."

Surrounded by a mass of papers and documents of every description and kind, Maj. Richard Sylvester, the head of the department, looked over the top of a copy of the "Manual of Military Tactics," when a reporter mentioned the President's message, and winked.

The wink meant that the major had nothing to say. Not but that he might have liked to say something, but discretion is a valuable asset in public life. And no one ever accused the major of being indiscreet. Far be it from him to express an opinion about what he thinks of the "military bearing" of the police force, even if the President doesn't think much of it.

The major glanced at the latest catalogue from a firm of military tailors, who also make police uniforms, and then looked up again.

"I'm glad the force is efficient, anyway," he said, with a smile that might mean anything.

"You will have to excuse me," he added. "There really isn't anything to say. You might write a story on how the men on duty at the House of Detention put out a fire in an automobile with hand extinguishers before the Fire Department got there."

Virginia Election Laws Must Stay As They Are

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 8.—Governor Mann has declined to call an extra session of the Legislature to revise the election laws and legalize party primaries, as demanded by Harry St. George Tucker, his defeated gubernatorial opponent.

Tucker's demand was in reference to the alleged Democratic frauds in the Second Congressional district. Governor Mann points out that primaries already are legalized in Virginia, decisions of Second district courts to the contrary notwithstanding, and that the expense involved is too great as well as unnecessary.

Alaska Food Jumps.

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 9.—Food prices in the Iditarod country are mounting higher and higher, according to men who are returning from Alaska. Sugar is 20 cents a pound, and bacon, ham, and flour are in proportion. Horses are in great demand, and $5 an hour is paid for teams.

With Orchestra

RICHARD LORLEBERG.

Lorleberg to Return As Symphony Soloist

Richard Lorleberg, the young 'cellist who appeared last season as soloist with the Washington Symphony Orchestra, again will be heard when this organization presents its second concert at the Columbia Theater on the afternoon of December 13.

Mr. Lorleberg was born in Hanover, Germany, where he received his musical instructions under the tuition of his father, who was known throughout Europe as a cellist of the highest class. Leaving his birthplace at an early age, the young musician was sent to Leipzig, where he was placed under the training of Prof. Julius Klengel, a composer and a member of the famous Gewandhaus Orchestra, into which the boy was later to be placed.

Under the direction of Heinrich Hammer, the orchestra will give the following program: "Symphony in D Minor," Schumann; "Sunset at Sea," Heinrich Hammer; "Serenade for Strings" (violin solo), Volkmann, and "Suite L'Arlesienne," Bizet.

Japanese Paper Sees War With United States

VICTORIA, B. C., Dec. 8.—The Tokyo Nippon says Japan must prepare for a war with the United States. Japan must ask herself what purposes the United States hopes to serve by fortifying the Pacific coast with a great fleet, maintaining an army on the coast, and fortifying the Panama Canal and insular possessions in the Pacific, the newspaper asserts.

It intimates that the answer will be something like war.

CARDINAL GIBBONS LEAVES FOR HOME

Officiated At the Dedication of Holy Cross Academy.

After spending the night as guest of the Rev. Father John Zahm, chaplain of the Holy Cross Academy, Cardinal Gibbons this morning returned to Baltimore.

The Cardinal officiated in the ceremonies attendant upon the dedication of the Holy Cross Academy, at Upton street and Dumbarton road, yesterday afternoon. At the completion of the ceremonial proper there was held a large reception and musicale by the students of the academy.

The principal address was made by the Rev. Father Edward A. Pace, of the faculty of Catholic University. In his speech Dr. Pace drew especial attention to the work done by the sisters of the Holy Cross in erecting this building, to the excellent site selected for it, to the natural advantages which it possessed, and to the large number of students enrolled there.

The Cardinal made a short address and the usual ceremonial for such occasions was gone through with. At the conclusion of the blessing of the building, a choir composed of students of the academy sang hymns and later gave a vocal concert for the benefit of the cardinal and the other guests.

At the close of the dedication ceremonies the cardinal and about thirty visiting priests were dined by the Mother Superior.

Don't Rub the Life Out of Your Clothes

Sprinkle a little GOLD DUST in the water, and let the GOLD DUST Twins do all the hard part of the task. GOLD DUST starts to dissolve and lather the moment it strikes the water; it starts to cleanse the moment it comes in contact with the garment. It instantly softens the hardest water, saves rubbing, saves wear and tear on clothes, and does most of the work without your assistance.

Use GOLD DUST next wash day, and have whiter, sweeter, cleaner clothes, with half the effort and in half the time.

Nature's Gift from the Sunny South

Cottolene

Makes Healthful and Delicious Pastry

Food cooked with hog lards and compounds is so thickly coated with grease as to give the gastric juices little chance to assimilate and digest it. Cottolene contains no hog fat. It does not coat the food with grease, and food cooked with it is easily digested.

From the standpoint of health there is no comparison between food cooked with Cottolene and food cooked with lard. Lard is just hog fat—Cottolene is a vegetable product of Nature.

Cottolene makes food which any stomach can digest, and builds up the tissues of the body.
